Next Steps in the Process

When your attorney refers you to us for assistance with your long-term care plan, one of our long-term care insurance specialists will contact you to schedule a free, no-obligation 30-minute consultation meeting by phone or video conference. During this consultation, you'll be asked questions about your current medications and health history, so be sure to have that information on hand. You will also have the opportunity to discuss your preferences and budget for extended care. This ensures your plan is tailored to your needs and wants.
